Conclave of the Grand Triennial Knights Templar.

SOCIALIST ROUNDLY HANDLED

[illegible] Scandal Increasing [illegible] Blackburn in Distress [illegible] Troubles, etc.

[illegible] Regarding the next Knights Templar triennial [illegible] San Francisco [illegible] of the [illegible] this vicinity [illegible] in Chicago [illegible] are being made in San Francisco [illegible] of the next will be at least [illegible] as the last conclave. [illegible] the grand commandery of California [illegible] a triennial committee [illegible] management and preparations [illegible]. This committee has held [illegible] other committees engaged [illegible] and laying out work. [illegible] are of correct railroad [illegible] accommodations and arrangements [illegible] greatly reduced rates from [illegible] Omaha and other points west [illegible] and also the probability [illegible] point to San Francisco [illegible] one fare for the round trip [illegible] accommodations seems equally [illegible] hotels of the city afford [illegible] and the adjacent city of Oakland has [illegible] offer to engage quarters [illegible] houses and guarantee there [illegible] in charges. The programme includes a grand parade Monday [illegible] the opening of the grand [illegible] promenade concert and ball [illegible] during the week. Frequent [illegible] will be run to the Geysers [illegible] and other points of interest.

[illegible] a Socialist.

[illegible] An immense crowd of people [illegible] Union Hall last night [illegible] socialist, Johann Most. Most delivered [illegible] in German. Desired to spread [illegible] movement in Europe and [illegible] throughout the world. In this [illegible] prevailing gave ample scope [illegible] socialistic doctrines. [illegible] he said, was as far perfected [illegible].

[illegible] Most, who arrived yesterday [illegible] Institute in the evening [illegible] and received rather [illegible] in all the papers. [illegible] is a sadly muddle headed person [illegible] seems to desire a long [illegible].

[illegible] an orator Most would not [illegible] as he did by spitting socialism [illegible] columns of a newspaper. His [illegible] high key. There are no modulations [illegible] when he wishes to emphasize [illegible] sentence, he simply screeches [illegible].

[illegible] had better take to the hand [illegible]."

[illegible] says Herr Most intends to remain [illegible] spring and continue the publication [illegible]. The journal is being published [illegible] temporarily. He goes direct to [illegible] immediately afterwards will [illegible] Cleveland, Cincinnati, Pittsburg, [illegible] Philadelphia. It is possible [illegible] Louis and even San Francisco [illegible] telegrams received here [illegible] are being made to receive [illegible].

[illegible] in Philadelphia.

[illegible] One of the largest audiences [illegible] awaited the first appearance [illegible] last evening. Her reception [illegible] enthusiastic. Large houses [illegible] the remainder of the week. [illegible] hotel Bellevue. The parlor [illegible] and filled with all the [illegible] which the art of the [illegible].

[illegible] long accounts of a mysterious [illegible] of Mrs. Langtry [illegible] accounts it appears that [illegible] were in a most perturbed [illegible] arrival, and the former [illegible] carriage from depot to hotel [illegible]. The cause of the [illegible] not explained in any of the [illegible] now appears that the reason [illegible] her engagement was [illegible] until the last train by a long [illegible] with Fred Gebhardt, who ac[illegible]. [illegible] discovery has not advanced [illegible] but then it appears that [illegible] more and more indifferent [illegible] reached the hotel [illegible]. There were fifteen enormous [illegible] bearing the name of a well known [illegible] the brand was not "Pommery" [illegible] the lady left the cars at [illegible] drove thence to the hotel.

[illegible] Governor.

[illegible] Gov. Blackburn's [illegible] pardoning power, his remissness [illegible] other abuses of his office, was [illegible] last winter with such [illegible] republicans introduced [illegible] the governor for a record of [illegible] granted, not enough [illegible] to defeat it. In spite of [illegible] by person the resolution [illegible] of state was instructed to [illegible] the last day of the session [illegible] in too late for consideration [illegible] the papers were [illegible] but when evening came they [illegible] of them was lost until [illegible] named McDonald who has [illegible] state printing is done, [illegible] the hall, and having seen [illegible] to the governor. He [illegible] looked at them and with [illegible] and ought to be burned [illegible] the fire place. McDonald [illegible] picked them up and [illegible] Tate, and he locked [illegible]. The record of the legislature [illegible] of the volume reference [illegible], and the record referred [illegible] printed. It is however known [illegible] over 1500 criminals and re[illegible] to over $1,000,000.

[illegible] to be a Candidate.

THE RAILROAD TAX CASES.

[illegible] Questions [illegible] Argument [illegible] the Supreme Court of the United States.

[illegible]

[illegible] that the [illegible] the assessors had appraised the entire property [illegible] yet they were [illegible] majority [illegible] was [illegible] state [illegible] individual taxpayers generally [illegible] federal law [illegible] a state [illegible] far as we can [illegible] and the possible [illegible] before the circuit court [illegible] favor are substantially these: That corporations are persons within the protection of the amendment, that equal protection of the laws includes a security in the rights of property as well as in life and personal liberty, and forbids states to impose unjust and unequal taxes. If these positions shall be permanently established by a decision of the supreme court the result may be to give corporations a resort to the federal courts wherever they think that the state laws operate unequally against them, and to give a like privilege to taxpayers complaining that the state system of taxation is not equal and uniform.

ARGUING THE CASES.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Argument in the San Mateo case was begun in the supreme court this afternoon. There was a large array of distinguished counsel present. Among them Attorney General Brewster, Attorney General Hart of California, Senator Edmunds, ex-Senator Conkling, Judge [illegible] Mr. Pomeroy and Mr. Saunders of California. The court room was crowded with spectators. Judge Rhodes began the argument in behalf of San Mateo county, plaintiff in error. He gave a history of the action from the time it was begun in the superior court of California to recover taxes claimed to be due from the Southern Pacific for the fiscal year of 1881-2 down to the time of the decision in favor of the company in the circuit court and the appeal to the supreme court. Rhodes said the defendants averred that the constitution and revenue laws of California, so far as they discriminate between private corporations and natural corporations on the one hand and quasi public corporations on the other hand are to the advantage of the former and to the prejudice of the latter and violate that clause of the fourteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States which declares that no state shall deny to any of its citizens the equal protection of its laws. The defendants claimed they had the same right to demand exemption from taxation on mortgages as had private individual property.

Rhodes gave a history of the systems of taxation under the old and new constitutions of California. The law of the state provided that all property within its limits shall be taxed in proportion to its value. The object of the constitution was to make an equitable ad valorem system of taxation on property. Property includes money, credits, bonds, stocks, franchises and all other things real, personal and mixed capable of private ownership. To avoid duplicate taxation it was provided a mortgage, deed, trust contract or other obligation shall be separately assessed, but this was no deduction from the value of property. The whole value is on the assessment list but divided the two parcels. The circuit court made a mistake in regarding the division of property between the mortgage interest and that of the owner of the property as a process by which property was to be assessed at less than its value. There is only one assessment on two classes of property separated to avoid duplication.

Rhodes will continue his argument to-morrow. It is now expected the arguments will be completed before Thursday.

CONKLING AND EDMUNDS.

The appearance of Conkling in the supreme court room to-day attracted a large crowd of visitors, including many ladies. As the justices entered Conkling arose and made a graceful courtesy which was acknowledged by the chief justice. The ex-senator was the recipient of many congratulations upon his improved appearance. The case of the county of San Mateo against the Southern Pacific railroad, in which Conkling appears for the defendant, was called later in the afternoon. The arguments of Conkling and Senator Edmunds are awaited with interest, as both were members of the senate judiciary committee when the 14th amendment by congress was submitted to the people and the construction of this amendment is now involved.

RAILWAY NEWS.

Value of Union Pacific Stock.

BOSTON, Dec. 19.—Charles Francis Adams, Jr., writes to the Advertiser on the value of the Union Pacific stock. He made a thorough investigation of the property when government director a few years ago, and last October he spent two weeks in careful study of the lines of the company with the officers. He found it greatly improved in every respect, but returning east found a veritable panic prevailing.

"The result of all my inquiries," he says, "has been a curious insight into the ways of Wall street. The list of changes set afloat and other reports successively were, day by day, telegraphed over the country, especially to New England, during ten weeks, would be a curiosity. The whole result of my investigation satisfied me as to the investment value of the property. Believing in it and having led others to invest in it, I want to see the control of it in New England. The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy and Union Pacific constitute together the Broadway or Washington street of this continent. They will always be the chief commercial thoroughfare between Chicago and San Francisco. Other lines will be built to the north and south of them, but these will be to the Union Pacific only what Third and Sixth avenues are to Broadway. That is the way it strikes me. The Union Pacific seems to me a very valuable property, with a very great future so far as occupying this country is concerned."

Working for a New Pool.

CHICAGO, Dec. 19.—J. W. Midgeley, E. P. Ripley and M. H. Courtright have returned from New York. They were unsuccessful in effecting any change in the system of making California rates. The roads between the Missouri river and the Rocky mountains having succeeded in perfecting their pooling arrangement, an effort is now being made to run a pool between the Pacific roads in California business. Parties to the pool will be the Atchison, Central, Southern and Central Pacific. The general managers, freight agents and passenger agents of these roads are now in New York to perfect arrangements for a new pool.

Amicably Arranged.

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—The presidents, vice presidents and general managers of the California lines and southwestern roads who for the past few days have been in session at the Windsor hotel, to-day amicably arranged all details of joint agreement with the exception of one or two points of division which will be referred to the presidents of the different companies for settlement.

Charges against President Rice.

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—G. C. Rice, ex-president of the Utica, Ithica and Elmira Railway Co., waived further examination yesterday and awaits in the Tombs the action of the grand jury. Four charges are preferred against Rice by Henry S. Ding [illegible] London, one for embezzlement, two for forgery and one for larceny.

CRIMINAL NOTES.

An Open Robbery.

[illegible], Dec. 19.—Three well dressed masked men to-day entered the office of the [illegible] Copper Mining company at [illegible] Mr. W. Church, [illegible] the superintendent, and his brother [illegible] the safe at the same time presenting their six shooters. [illegible] safe was [illegible] and about one hundred and fifty dollars taken by the robbers. A [illegible] Thirty [illegible] They [illegible].

House.

WASHINGTON, [illegible]

[illegible] Mary [illegible] conference committee.

Berry introduced a bill for the relief of the widow of Rear Admiral McDougal.

Williams, chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, reported a joint resolution citing that the government of Peru proposes to establish at Lima a judicial system among Christian nations so that courts in that country would be fully opened for the protection of citizens of the United States and authorizing the president to declare by proclamation the right with [illegible] of its citizens to claim the extraterritorial jurisdiction within the said territory of Tunis had ceased and could no longer be claimed or exercised. Passed.

Bills were introduced and referred:

By Dezendorf of Virginia, to prevent federal office holders from interfering with the freedom of elections.

By Cassidy of Nevada, an annual anti-polygamy law.

The committee on public lands reported a bill to repeal the laws allowing the pre-emption of public lands. Referred.

Scales of North Carolina offered a resolution directing the committee [illegible] to inquire into the expediency [illegible] the revenue laws [illegible] to abolish the internal tax [illegible] on all brandies [illegible] apples, peaches and grapes and [illegible], further [illegible] and [illegible].

[illegible] Garfield [illegible] claim [illegible].

Anderson of Kansas offered a resolution calling on the secretary of the interior for information respecting the withdrawal of the land of the Leavenworth, Pawnee & Western railway. Referred.

The house then went into committee of the whole, Calkins of Indiana in the chair, on the postal appropriation bill, the pending amendment being that offered by Robeson of New Jersey, providing that the railway companies which have received land subsidies in addition to grants of public land shall receive as compensation for carrying mails [illegible] per cent of the amount now allowed them by law for that service.

An Ex-Congressman's Views.

CHICAGO, Dec. 19.—Hon. Farnsworth, ex-congressman, thinks nothing worthy will be accomplished with the tariff this session, that [illegible] service bill, or a similar one, will be passed; that in 1884 the republicans will be divided in [illegible] and the result will be that some third rate man will be nominated. Blaine don't want the nomination, nor has any leaders except Logan. He is going to throw Grant overboard and [illegible] in all factions. Farnsworth is mostly in Washington now, although he calls Chicago his home.

Convention of Copper and Lead Interests.

DENVER, Dec. 19.—A meeting was held this evening to protest against the reduction of the tariff on lead and copper. Acting Governor Morgan presiding. A committee [illegible] Lubbock [illegible] Eliot [illegible] was appointed to attend the interests convention at Washington early in January. The copper industry is growing wonderfully in Wyoming, and gives promise of soon over [illegible] the Lake Superior district.

Congressional Chit-Chat.

TARIFF ON WOOL.

The senate committee on finance are having considerable trouble with the tariff but [illegible] over the woolen schedule. Apparently the [illegible] will have to be changed. On washed wool [illegible] grade known as combings and carpet wools the duty is double, the valuation by the [illegible] ad valorem duties of ten and twelve per cent [illegible] some entirely or the unwashed. The [illegible] washed wools are not imported [illegible] the importations of raw material for all three are wools for the manufacture of carpets. They are not produced in this country, but come chiefly from Russia. Manufacturers of coarse wool [illegible] carpets have declared to the finance committee that they will be ruined should this rate [illegible] make a law for under it they cannot do business. It is argued against the recommendation that doubling the duty on these coarse wools and [illegible] American wool growers because the finer grades that are grown in this country, and for which there is ample demand in our markets, are at remunerative prices. Wool growers in the United States claim having any interest in the question. It is said while it would be a blow at the manufacturers and would be no assistance to them. It seems likely the committee will report in their bill a duty for these coarse wools no higher than under the existing tariff. It is maintained this will be ample, considering the heavy reductions on manufactured wool from this grade of material.

DEMOCRATS OBJECT.

The democrats of the ways and means committee except Randall [illegible] is nominated, will have a minority report on the tariff commission bill. The more they investigate the worse they like it. Very few reductions it shows are made upon combined items involved in our manufactures demonstrates the fallacy of their theory and the soundness of protective principles that tariff protection will cheapen prices if judiciously arranged through starting new manufactures and giving rise to competition. The report, however, will not involve the presentation of a tariff bill for adoption in the house, for the reason that the free traders on the committee are not able to prepare a composite tariff which they dare to bring in and defend upon the floor of the house and before the country. The report consists in the main of a protest against the recommendations of the commission on the ground that they are injurious and a system contrary to the views of the majority in the [illegible] recommends a tariff for protection. They are a little slow in making this discovery, probably because the phrase "protective tariff" does not occur in the commission's report, and the bill is characterized as discriminative tariff.

TOBACCO TAX.

Pending action on the reduction of the tobacco tax the tobacco trade of the country is in a very unsettled state, and manufacturers will suffer severely unless something is done speedily. As a result it is [illegible] will most probably [illegible] this would [illegible] precedents on this question. [illegible] first it was to then [illegible] whether a rebate will be allowed dealers. The treasury department is very much opposed to it. [illegible] stated that [illegible] not be paid until [illegible].

[illegible]

The action of the county [illegible] day [illegible] was bound out and [illegible] Members who [illegible] left on the next train. No quorum is likely [illegible] September. No time has ever been [illegible] that has not [illegible] the clerk [illegible].

WASHINGTON NEWS.

[illegible] Political Assessment Case [illegible] Important [illegible].

[illegible] individual liberty.

Why DeLong Killed his Dogs.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Prof. Newcomb, naturalist of the Jeannette expedition, referring to the statement of the Russian officer recently published to the effect that the death of DeLong [illegible] party was in killing their dogs [illegible] says:

When the dogs were [illegible] was a question [illegible] before [illegible] the lake. Naturally the men were first considered. As to threats I would say that besides [illegible] and Winchester rifles, each officer, excepting myself, had Remington breech loading shot guns, some of them fitting with auxiliary [illegible] barrels [illegible] more than [illegible] birds enough for the whole ship's company.

Newcomb says: "There was no room for all the dogs, and we selected [illegible] of the best and the rest were killed. The ten saved were distributed in three boats, but we could not keep them there. They would jump in the [illegible] and drift off."

Melville says: "The Russian officer is talking of something he don't know anything about. He is talking about a country he never was in, and a land about which he knows nothing."

Land Decisions.

The secretary of the interior heard arguments to-day by counsel for the railroad in the case of the Atlantic and Pacific railroad vs. Wilson. The question involved is whether in the case of a private land claim [illegible] patented the [illegible] the land when [illegible] the department [illegible] reserved [illegible] disposal by the United States. In a similar case recently decided, where the Southern Pacific was a party, Secretary Teller reversed the decision of his predecessor and reverted [illegible] to the per[illegible]. [illegible] lands are subject to disposal by the government. This decision was an appeal from the land office, and although it immediately concerns only a few hundred acres in Santa Barbara county, California, yet the principle involved is regarded as of great importance.

DORSEY'S DESPERATION.

What some People say Caused the Publishing of Garfield's Correspondence with his Campaign Manager—The Latter's Innocence not Proven.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Gen. Swaim says Garfield's friends have not been disturbed by the publication of his letter to Dorsey. Garfield never wrote anything he cared for to [illegible] carefully [illegible] campaign services and had marked ability. These letters [illegible] Dorsey [illegible] letter from Mentor disapproving the New York dinner.

Another special says Dorsey succeeded in showing very conclusively that he was Garfield's intimate and trusted adviser during the past presidential campaign. Naturally they [illegible] have made a [illegible] public [illegible] permission to take a step behind the curtain and learn how a campaign is won [illegible] Dorsey.

Germany and Russia.

BERLIN, Dec. 19.—The only topic engaging attention here is the relations between Germany and Russia. Russian exchange was never lower on the Bourse [illegible] than now. One hundred ruble notes of a nominal value of [illegible] marks, were quoted to-day at 19 marks offered. The panic seems mainly due to an article in the [illegible] on the massing of the Russian army on the Galician frontier. This is regarded [illegible] circles, both in Berlin and Vienna, as absurd, but its effect on business shows that uneasiness has been created in the minds of the public by what is known as Bismarck's newspaper campaign. Investigating Stocks.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 19.—The [illegible] in its stock [illegible] this evening says the committee recently appointed by the San Francisco board for the purpose of investigating the management of corporations whose stock is listed thereupon, appear to have started upon their labors in earnest. This committee is said to be the power behind the throne which is pushing the suits against the Bullion company. Yesterday certain members of the committee attended the annual meetings of the Gould & Curry and Sutro mining companies and interested themselves conspicuously in the proceedings. At the Gould & Curry meeting they succeeded in quashing a motion authorizing the trustees to dispose of any stock that might be taken in by the company for non-payment of assessments. They also announced their intention to be present at the annual meeting of the Ophir company to-morrow and say that all meetings of leading companies listed on the stock boards are to be attended in the future in the interest of the public at large. It is also hinted that the committee is preparing for a grand coup, which will [illegible] the speculative horizon like a comet and which will revolutionize things materially on our mining system. The committee is also endeavoring to put one into certain mines on the Comstock, one or more of its members firmly believing that they can accomplish this great task.

Fire at Sea.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 19.—The ship St. Nicholas arrived to-day from New York, having on board Captain Dougherty and a portion of the crew of the British bark Lennox. The St. Nicholas reports that October 1, at 4 P.M., in lat. [illegible] south, long. 82 west, she fell in with the Lennox from Glasgow, with coal for San Francisco. The crew were discharging cargo from the main hatch and sending down water by means of [illegible] engine and buckets. A dense volume of smoke was rising from the main hatch. At request of Capt. Dougherty the St. Nicholas lay by. At 5:35 [illegible] the flames rushed through the main hatch, ascending the main yards. At two next morning the captain and crew, twenty-five in number, abandoned the ship and boarded the St. Nicholas. About daylight she sighted the British bark Hindostan, from Liverpool for Valparaiso, and transferred some of the Lennox's crew to her.

NEW YORK, Dec. [illegible] story [illegible] San Francisco [illegible] had but a [illegible] business, and [illegible] speculation in the [illegible] Public [illegible] the [illegible] speculation [illegible] dividends [illegible] country [illegible] the Chicago [illegible] is regulated and they must take [illegible] those [illegible] of [illegible] bought outright, are not [illegible].

GAMBLING TRANSACTIONS.

The Chicago market affected the whole opinion of the country in corn, wheat, lard, pork, etc. It would not be fair to call these speculations gambling transactions, although doubtless a good deal of speculation was done. The whole business was founded on speculation in the highest degree. [illegible] the real condition of the country [illegible] speculation is [illegible] the great benefit [illegible] good [illegible] strikes [illegible] in accordance with the system of supply and demand. [illegible] of breadstuffs is so large that it cannot be controlled, and even though temporary corners are made they will soon regulate itself. Corners do not affect transportation or the foreign trade, and their consequences are not far reaching or disastrous. We are never engaged in cornering this life [illegible] Keene corner, he supposed, was so called because he was the central figure in the combination which owned large quantities of wheat. This combination was not formed to corner but merely to protect themselves from the tender mercies of the "bears." The syndicate disbanded long before the wheat was sold. The syndicate held certain amounts of wheat and combined for common defence. When the "wheat" cry was raised by the press about the corner the syndicate had to sell their grain at a loss. We never sent agents throughout the country to buy up all the wheat. [illegible] suppose the most of wheat we had was between 15,000,000 and 17,000,000 bushels. The syndicate was formed in December. Many gentlemen belonging to it dropped out in May. Transportation to the west, although reduced, was not suspended. The price of wheat at Chicago at that time was from $1.15 to $1.20 per bushel. The farmer was constantly benefited by the advance. The [illegible] benefited [illegible] perhaps [illegible] freight. The reason of that was [illegible] officially owned stock rates [illegible] were more disastrous than any corner. The rates were fixed by Commissioner Fink and [illegible].

THE TWO REPORTS

It is hard to say which contains the strongest argument against the Hawaiian treaty, the majority report of the special committee of the Portland board of trade which favors the continuance of the treaty or the minority report, the one adopted by the board which favors its abrogation. The majority report expresses the opinion in the most positive way that the treaty ought to stand and yet it presents most cogent and even invincible arguments against it. It shows that our people do not get the benefits of the treaty in reduction of the cost of sugars as they ought, that sugars free of duty are much higher in price to consumers here than duty paying sugars are to consumers in the eastern states, and that an enormous sum is taken out of the United States treasury every year through the treaty for the benefit of one man. If any stronger case could be made against the treaty we should like to see it. Yet the committee say the treaty is not to be charged with all this, what requires to be abrogated is the sugar monopoly, not the reciprocity treaty. But the treaty created this monopoly and is its main prop. Through it the "one man" has made and is making so much money that no man or company dares to enter into competition with him. It is not possible, while this treaty stands to establish a refinery in Portland, unless Spreckles does it himself and he has no notion of that. If it be said that the treaty has now made him so powerful that even if it were abrogated he could still control the sugar business of the Pacific coast the answer is that at least we should have an end of the policy which takes three million dollars a year out of the United States treasury and puts it into his pocket. If THE OREGONIAN is not greatly in error most persons who read the majority report will decide at once that the statements presented in it lead by invincible logic to a conclusion exactly opposite to the intended one.

Much is said about the commercial advantages of the treaty to the United States. These seem much overrated. A few persons doubtless find it advantageous, but the Hawaiian kingdom is too limited a market to make its trade of general value to our people. Moreover it is a tropical country, and "the naked negro panting at the line" is not a great consumer of the products of manufacturing industry. Indefinite expansion of the trade of so small a country is not to be expected; and besides it is perfectly true as Mr. Goldsmith says in his report, that, after the islands had obtained in the United States a free market for their products, they "reciprocated" by reducing duties on imports so as to get the benefit of cheap English goods. England now has the cream of the trade since the islands take from her nearly all the highly finished goods of which they have need, and from us chiefly coarser products upon which no great profit can be made, but which they would take from us in any event, because they can get them nowhere else.

Oregon, looking to her own commercial interests, cannot, as it seems to us, want this treaty continued. So far it has been detrimental to those interests. Such commerce as we had with the islands it has transferred to San Francisco. It seems highly improbable to say the least, that we could recover this trade and increase it by any attempt to compete with the sugar monopoly of San Francisco. We should get no sugar from the islands for our refinery, because Spreckels controls now a large part of the product and could offer for the remainder a little more than we could and carry the loss till he could make it good by the next turn of the screw.

NOT SO BAD AFTER ALL

Rev James Freeman Clarke of Boston, a noted thinker, preacher and writer in his thanksgiving sermon made a very pungent remark about those persons in the "upper classes" who neglect their political duties, speak scornfully of the republic and go to Europe for their opinions. The criticism was just. The pessimist always asserts that our country is on the verge of political destruction, and what is worse, a great many believe his assertions. Men are so constituted that they love a scandal, and it often gives more pleasure to look upon the rascalities of politics than upon the honorable actions of those who form the large majority in our legislative halls and other positions of public trust. No doubt many persons consider Senator Dilworthy a representative American legislator. About a year ago a novel called "Democracy" made a sensation in this country, and a greater one in England. Our English cousins could not appreciate the broad sarcasm and burlesque of the book but took the Hon. Silas P Ratcliffe to be a representative legislator of our country. Happily there are Englishmen who have more than a superficial knowledge of our country and who are able and willing to set us right. A recent article in the Fortnightly Review is an illustration in point. It is a criticism upon the common English conceptions of our political and official morality. It is true we have certain corruptions in legislation. We have log rolling for appropriations and intrigue and corruption for place—but this is not so bad as it is often painted. For example there were things in the river and harbor bill which no doubt were jobs, and some who voted to put them in must have been aware of the fact. Still there were others—many others—who believing that all surplus revenue should be spent could see no harm in any of the items, and honestly supported the bill as a whole. Or, if pressed upon the subject they could have answered and properly too, that there were too many worthy and necessary things in the bill to allow them to vote against it, even if some of the items ought not to have been there. In some respects political life with us suffers in comparison with that in England but the writer above referred to gives the reasons. In England political life is its main, its central, its highest, social life. It is the chief pursuit of men most conspicuous by rank and by practical talents. The titled classes of England are born politicians. Politics is the talk of the highest social circles, and excites more than in any other country the attention and ambition of women. There was a time when a duchess would kiss a butcher to make a vote for a favorite—she may be found yet. In our country on the other hand the the most active and ambitious do not care for politics; still less are politics the great concern of their lives. The founding of new industries the creation of great corporations and the using thereof of schemes for the creation of wealth attract the best and strongest of our thinking men. Hence the ablest men [illegible] politics as a class. Politicians by profession [illegible] and these give the low tone to our official conduct. Another reason that as a nation we do not take our politics as the English do is because the law leaves us almost [illegible] federal power [illegible] not touch [illegible] Washington can [illegible] that London is [illegible] San Francisco [illegible] have a very [illegible] Columbia [illegible] by the [illegible] of the states [illegible] thing for [illegible] troubled [illegible] much to [illegible] that an intelligent [illegible] than any [illegible] or less in the United States than [illegible] our faults [illegible]

scope of action more restricted and less regarded than in England. We send to differ[ent] men to congress and the legislature simply because we feel we are giving them little honor and that they will not hurt us much. This indifference takes the class of professional politicians which really affect us when it comes to local government—as witness the control of New York and Philadelphia. In these cities self protection has brought good men to the front. After all the ills of our local government of our condition. If small men crawl into power it is because [illegible] afford to. We are [illegible] most would have us believe simply because our government has a tendency [illegible] and this prevents small [illegible] doing great harm.

CITY OF GLASGOW BANK

It is now nearly five years since the failure of the City of Glasgow bank, an event which produced a profound sensation throughout the financial world. This bank was one of the most important in the United Kingdom and it had been looked upon as one of the soundest. When the crash came it was discovered that the ruin of the concern had been brought about by a system of continued frauds and irregularities almost unparalleled even in this country. The accounts of the bank had been falsified for years and to such an extent that liabilities been underestimated and assets over estimated to any nothing of the total loss of the reserve fund and original capital that there was a deficiency of £6,200,000 which enormous sum had been principally lost through four accounts on which £5,790,000 had been loaned in return for securities worth £1,531,000. The manner in which the affairs of this concern have been wound up illustrates forcibly the rigid laws of Great Britain in regard to banking and the security afforded to depositors by the British system.

A statement has just been issued which shows that the liquidation of the bank has cost £194,000, or one and a half per cent on the amount which has passed through the hands of the liquidators. The total is made up of £30,000 for salaries and expenses, £103,000 for legal charges and £61,000 for remuneration of liquidators. There were 1300 share-holders when the bank stopped, of these 480 were women and there were 174 persons who merely held as trustees or executors. The first call of £500 per £100 share produced half the nominal amount and entirely ruined one-third of the shareholders. The next call was £2250 per share and after it was paid only 176 contributors were left solvent. Had this crash occurred in America it would not have gone so hard with the shareholders. But the depositors would scarcely have fared so well as those who had their money in the City of Glasgow bank have done.

A decision has been rendered in the supreme court of the United States restoring to the heirs of Gen. R. E. Lee the Arlington estate, the historical homestead of the family. The Arlington estate, which comprises 1100 acres, was sold for taxes June 7 1862, and purchased by the government for $26,800. After the lapse of twenty years that valuable property has, by due process of law been adjudged to belong rightfully to the Lee family. Of course the Lees do not want the place. It is now a national cemetery and not a desirable place to live. All the Lees want is the money value of Arlington. This they will get and the government a perfect title. The grounds are the resting place of about 20,000 union and a few confederate dead.

The English press is beginning to acknowledge the influence of this country on public opinion in Europe. A London paper says: "Can we not take example by the United States? That country wisely never interferes except when its own interests are directly menaced. And what is the result? It does not squander money on a huge army. Its three per cent stock is quoted at a higher price than our consols. Its artisans are laying by money. Its agricultural population acquire homesteads and the great republic is prosper[ing] beyond all other countries." No better testimony to the value of republican institutions and the non interference policy which they teach could be desired than this.

The assertion of eastern journals that Pago, of California, was beaten because of his support of the river and harbor bill is absurd. Rosecrans who also supported the bill and voted to pass it over the president's veto was elected by an increased majority. It was not the river and harbor bill that displeased the voters of the districts that got the appropriations. Page and others were defeated because at that particular time change was in the air.

A reviewer notes an error in the telegraphic report that Mrs. Langtry's four weeks' engagement at New York brought her more money than any other engagement of the same length ever produced in America. The receipts for Bernhardt's four weeks at New York were $86,453. Those for Langtry's four weeks were $61,803.

The vacuum motor is the latest thing. It beats perpetual motion. Compressed air is said to be the agent. But where is the compressed air to be had? No doubt any steam engine could supply that.

BRIEF MENTION.

Council meeting to night.

... Frank Wheaton, of Fort Coeur d'Alene, is in the city.

The grand jury will adjourn this week over the holidays.

Vertelli appears to night for the last time at the skating rink.

The O & C railroad receive freight today for the east side.

Steamer A A McCully leaves at 1 o'clock to day for all points on Willamette river to Harrisburg.

Young Men's Hebrew Association will give their first ball of the season on the evening January 6.

Frank Wiggard was sentenced yesterday to two years imprisonment in the penitentiary for burglary.

SUICIDE.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

KALAMA Dec 19.—Yesterday, W A Tefft, a young man, 20 or 21 years of age, committed suicide by taking chloroform at the residence of B P Rulifson, near Carrollton in this county. His parents live near Freeport. No sufficient cause is known for the rash deed.

ARRIVAL OF THE HENRY FAILING.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

PORT TOWNSEND, Dec 19.—The ship Henry Failing arrived this afternoon, 120 days from Philadelphia, laden with 2513 tons of railroad material for the O R & N Co, which she will discharge at New Tacoma.

NO NEW CASES.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WALLULA, W T, Dec 19. There are now six cases of confluent smallpox here. One death occurred from a malignant form. No more new cases and none of the railroad men are down. The cases are all under ... under the personal superintendence of Emil Bories.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Invisible Uncle Tom's Cabin company leave San Francisco for Portland by this morning's steamer. They open at New Market with a Christmas matinee.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Observe Brigham's new advertisement to day.

Couch Engine Company offer their furniture, carpets, etc., for sale on Thursday.

FOUNDATION DAMAGED.—The foundation of H B Knapp's new residence at Sixteenth and D streets was so severely damaged by the late rains that it is thought it will be necessary to rebuild it before attempting to erect a dwelling thereon. Mr Knapp's intention is to spend about $40,000 on the new building, which will be finished with choice hard woods. He will also erect a stable on the grounds, to cost about $10,000.

RAILROAD CHANGES.—Robert F. O'Brien, chief engineer of the Oregon and Transcontinental company, has been appointed assistant manager of the O R & N Co and Henry S Rowe agent of the company here, has been appointed superintendent of the railway divisions. They succeed J M Buckley, who filled both offices under one title, and the appointments take effect January 1st.

A SAFE MOVE.—The job of moving the two large burglar proof safes of the First National bank to the new building at the corner of Washington and First will be commenced this morning by W O Allen. One of the safes weighs about seven tons, the other four one. It is intended to have both in position before night as the business is to be transferred at once.

MUD DEPOSITS.—Some idea of the vast amount of soil carried down by the Willamette river in times of flood can be formed by glancing at the lower line of docks along the city front, which are covered with a deposit of mud, and varying from five inches to a foot in depth. The dirt carried down by the late flood would make a very respectable bar of itself.

TO BURN COAL.—The steamer Wide West is lying at the bone yard having her furnaces changed so that she can burn coal. The change decreases the size of the fire box about 35 per cent. All boats owned by the O R & N Co on the lower Columbia and Willamette will be changed to coal burners, one boat at a time laying off to make the change.

COMPLIMENTARY RESOLUTIONS.—At a special meeting of the board of managers of the Young Men's Christian Association, resolutions were passed complimentary to Dr and Mrs O B Bird regretting their removal from the city and recognizing their valuable services to the association.

A cheerful attendance to the needs of their patrons ... they all join in with the owners ... and any more street cars. Surely Portland just now can expect more of her councilmen than an tolerating such neglect of the comfort of her people.

ONE OF THE SUFFERERS.

(The best thing "one of the Sufferers" can do is to make up her mind to keep on suffering. More cars have been ordered and they will be put on just as soon as Ben Holladay gets ready, not a day sooner. He can be moved neither by personal appeals, nor by newspaper criticism, nor by petitions, and he defies the law. Attention of the city council has been frequently called to violations of his charter, and they have refused to apply the remedy.)

WHAT EVERYBODY KNOWS.
Any one at all acquainted with the routines of everyday business is aware of the difficulties attending the closing out of a large business. The less expensive goods are easily disposed of. If a suit of clothes could be sold for from 50c to $2, no trouble in disposing of it would be experienced; but as this is not the case we must do the next best thing, and cut the prices right and left. We herewith quote prices:

THE HAWAIIAN TREATY.

The Two Reports on the Subject Presented to the Portland Board of Trade.

ARGUMENTS FOR AND AGAINST.

The Majority Report of the Special Committee Favors the Treaty, but the Minority Report Condemning it Adopted.

THE MAJORITY REPORT.

Your committee to whom was referred the matter of the Hawaiian treaty and the subject of establishing a sugar refinery in Portland, Or., beg leave to make the following report.

Our duty as a committee was the investigation of two distinct subjects, which to commercial interests of the Pacific coast are quite intimately allied.

The consideration of the present existing treaty with the Sandwich islands, has received the careful attention of your full committee and the majority of that committee are agreed as to the following facts. Prior to the existence of the present treaty, that is prior to 1876 the commercial relations of the United States were not of the most amicable character. The export trade between the United States and the Pacific states and Hawaiian islands was, as near as we can ascertain, about $1,000,000.

In 1876, the treaty went into being, and the trade under the treaty has enabled the islands to become purchasers of American products to the extent of nearly $5,000,000 annually. This growth of trade took place under the watchful eye and vigilant competition of Germany, France and England, each of the nations named being better represented on the islands than were the United States, both as to number of persons and capital employed.

There were larger quantities of French, British and other foreign machinery used on the islands at that time, which have now given way to improved American machinery of the most modern type. Every dollar gained in this trade was through the efforts of Americans, under the advantages given them by the present Hawaiian treaty.

The direct trade that existed between Portland and the Sandwich Islands prior to 1876 did not cease after that time in consequence of the treaty in any sense. This trade ceased because Portland and Oregon as a whole could not become purchasers of the entire product of an Hawaiian sugar plantation. They could buy the better grades, or grocery grades of sugar, but the lower grades of sugars had to be refined before they became merchantable. Portland did not afford a market for these lower grades. Add to this the fact that all sugar plantations turn off a product in which the lower or dark grades form fully two-thirds of the crop. It is, therefore, by no means a matter of surprise that Portland, not being a purchaser of these dark grades, ceased to be a competitor, and that the planter would seek a market for his entire product, and in this way San Francisco, by means of her sugar refinery, became a purchaser for whatever the planter desired to sell, and Portland vessels remained without remunerative employment.

The present treaty with the Sandwich islands must not, in the opinion of your committee, be in any way considered as a cause of the existing monopolies in sugar. It neither created nor maintains them. The richest planter on the islands—the owner of the monopoly—did not at first favor the treaty, but, to the contrary, opposed it in every way known to him. But, after it became law, he took every advantage of the situation, and his present enormous wealth and the power that wealth gives him is not owing to the fact that he favored the ratification of the treaty, but to the fact that he availed himself of its great advantages at once, and continues to do so to this hour. Yet, he fought against the treaty to the last day. Now, by reason of his sugar monopolies, he is more powerful than the king himself.

This treaty, as it now exists, is of immense advantage to the whole Pacific coast. It is true that by the manipulation of one man the people are largely defrauded of these advantages, but the people, and not the treaty, are to blame for that. Sugar perhaps, next to bread, is the great staple of commerce. There are more men and more capital employed in the cultivation and manufacture of sugar in its varied forms than any other product, with the single exception of breadstuffs. Therefore it is of the greatest importance that the people be supplied with this staple at the lowest prices. Yet by means of the sugar monopoly of this coast the people of the Pacific states pay from 25 to 33⅓ per cent. more for their sugars than the people of the Atlantic seaboard.

The product of the islands will reach this year 100,000,000 pounds of raw sugars. This goes to San Francisco, costing the importer and planter $2,500,000 less than the same quantity costs laid down in New York, and yet the people of the Pacific states pay $2,000,000 more for this sugar than it is sold for in New York, making five and a half millions annually extracted from the people of Oregon, California and the territories for the benefit of one corporation. One-half of this sum is made up by the United States by allowing these sugars to come in without paying 2½ cents per lb duty, and the balance is paid by one-fortieth part of the population of the United States.

This condition of affairs is not brought about by the existing treaty, but is owing to the fact that the one corporation has control of the entire sugar trade of the whole western coast. Notwithstanding all this, San Francisco has increased her trade and commerce with the Sandwich Islands. Instead of a schooner line plying between the ports of San Francisco and Honolulu, as prior to 1876, there is a line of fine large steamers plying regularly, and several lines of sailing vessels all of which vessels are carrying full cargoes each way. This increase of trade, constantly growing, suggests fully in the minds of your committee the beneficial effects, both to the islands and the United States, of the present reciprocity treaty.

A late number of the American Grocer, a leading eastern journal well known to the sugar trade, and whose quotations are always considered the most reliable, makes the following quotation:

Crushed sugar for export	8⅝c ℔ lb
Granulated sugar for export	8⅛c ℔ lb
Yellow C for export	4¾c ℔ lb

On the same day, namely, November 25th, the quotation in San Francisco was as follows:

Crushed sugar	12c ℔ lb
Granulated sugar	11¼c ℔ lb
Yellow C sugar	10¾c ℔ lb

The San Francisco refiner of sugar can, under the treaty, supply the markets of the Pacific coast at the quotation made by the American Grocer for export at a profit. The New York refiner does supply the eastern markets at these figures, adding 2¾c per pound he pays for U. S. duties, which the Pacific coast refiner does not pay. Therefore the question: If New York refiners can buy raw sugar, pay a duty of 2¾c per pound thereon, refine it, pack it in barrels, and sell it at a profit at $8 38 per 100 lb, what profit would accrue to the Pacific refiner, who can buy raw sugars in Honolulu as low as they can be bought at Manila, can bring them to his refinery, duty free, and yet receive 12c net for all the crushed sugar he can produce?

What requires to be abrogated is the sugar monopoly; not the reciprocity treaty. The way to do this is to establish competition; and the best way to establish competition is to build up in our midst a sugar refinery. This would enable Portland at once to be a competitive buyer for all grades of raw sugars. A line of vessels would be established at once on a firm paying basis. And if San Francisco in the period of seven years could increase its trade with the islands from one million to five million dollars, Portland would in one year create a trade that would amount to fully one million of dollars, and which would grow constantly from the moment the trade was established. The interior and British Columbia form a large field which Portland would constantly supply. This field is growing, more rapidly, perhaps, than any other portion of our land, and, by reason of our proximity, we would always have the advantage over any other market. The idea being, if Portland can supply the great staple cheaply, there are large lines of goods that would follow and insure to our benefit and to the building up of our trade, for cheap sugars would carry many other goods with it. Respectfully submitted.

CHAS. H. DODD, Chairman.
C. H. LEWIS,
J. McCRAKEN,
DONALD MACLEAY,
WM. WADHAMS.

THE MINORITY REPORT WHICH WAS ADOPTED BY THE BOARD BY A VOTE OF 9 TO 7.

To the Board of Trade, Portland, Oregon—Gentlemen: Being one of a committee appointed by you "to investigate the whole subject matter of trade with the Hawaiian islands and advise this board of the best course to pursue under the present circumstances," I would respectfully state that two questions presented themselves to your committee for deliberation, one of which was the advisability of establishing a sugar refinery in this city, upon which question the committee will report. The other question deliberated upon was the advisability of reconsidering the resolution passed by this board petitioning congress of the U. S. to abrogate the treaty now existing between our government and that of the Hawaiian islands. A majority of your committee having agreed to report that said resolution be rescinded, I hereby, with all due respect for the opinion of the majority, beg to submit a minority report.

In the year 1877 a treaty of reciprocity was entered into between the government of the U. S. and that of the Hawaiian islands, intended to be reciprocal or mutually beneficial. Now I contend that this treaty has not been beneficial to the people or government of the United States, and having failed to be so, ought to be abrogated, and would call your attention to the fact that before this so-called reciprocity treaty had been entered into, the state of Oregon, which lies nearer to the Sandwich islands than any other state of the Union, sold some of her surplus products to the islands and in return received sugar from there, which after paying our government a duty of about forty per cent, was sold to the consumers of this state at a comparatively low price, but since this treaty went into effect we have ceased to sell any of our products to the islands and have to pay more for island sugar than we did before. These are facts, and no amount of statistics will overcome them. But the additional fact exists that our government relinquishes by the terms of this treaty about three millions of dollars per annum in duties on the sugar imported from these islands, which amount is more than all the exports from the United States to the Sandwich Islands amount to. If the loss of this revenue would be so much saved to the consumer, there would be some reciprocity in it, but the people of this Pacific coast pay actually more for this duty-free sugar than the people of the Atlantic coast pay for the same grade of sugar which yields to our government a revenue of 2½ cents per pound.

After this reciprocity treaty went into effect a great impetus was given at the islands to the raising of sugar cane, and our Polynesian friends commenced to reciprocate by ordering and importing all their machinery for new sugar mills from England. Next, they reciprocated by reducing duties on goods imported from England to a more nominal figure (ten per cent ad valorem), in consequence of which the percentage of imports into the Sandwich Islands from the United States is now less than it was before this treaty was made, and the whole exports from the United States to these islands is less in amount than the duties on sugar imported by us from the islands would amount to under the old tariff. Under the free system the imports of sugar [illegible] have increased very much, indeed, [illegible] been hinted that these astute islanders import large quantities of sugar and rice from China and [illegible] the benefit of them by entering them under the treaty free of duty. Notwithstanding which we have a phenomenon in political economy, [illegible] that of an article costing the consumer more free of duty than it does with a protective duty added to it, and the question arises: who gets the benefit [illegible] these three millions of dollars, relinquished every year by our government to the island [illegible] under this reciprocity treaty? [illegible] we find that a very wealthy gentleman of San Francisco is [illegible] by and with the aid of this reciprocity treaty from the consumer that amount [illegible] yearly, instead of our government collecting it, and this gentleman only is the recipient of the benefits of this so-called reciprocity treaty. It is said that so deeply is he interested with the beneficial [illegible] [illegible] himself that he [illegible] for a prolongation of it. It was said during the late political campaign in California that he threatened to discharge any employe of his who voted to vote for any one inimical to a continuance of the treaty, and he himself repairs to our national capital there to advance weighty reasons against the abrogation of the treaty, for which grand and noble sacrifice his Hawaiian majesty has ennobled this worthy man and created him a knight and baron of his dominions. This modern baron, like his more doughty brethren of old, levies tribute upon the people of these Pacific coast states to the amount of $3,000,000, or more, a year. I would therefore, respectfully move that this board of trade petition congress to abrogate this so-called reciprocity treaty now existing between the three high contracting parties, namely the government of the United States, that of the Hawaiian islands and Sir Claus Spreckels, of San Francisco, California.

Respectfully yours,
B. GOLDSMITH.

Washington Territory.

The gas company at Walla Walla lost considerable pipe and 1500 cords of wood by the storm of last week.

Prescott has a new hardware store and is to have a drug store. Building in that burg is progressing as rapidly as the lumber can be had.

At the mouth of Clark's fork, near where it empties into the Pend d'Oreille, there is a large copper vein plainly defined on both sides of the river.

The contractors on the Ainsworth bridge are feeling very uneasy on account of the high water. Every precaution possible is being taken to avoid any part of the works being washed away.

It is claimed that the Mill Creek Flume and Manufacturing Company's loss on account of high water will not fall far short of $20,000. Several of the company's buildings were washed away and the flume was badly demoralized and the company's dam across Mill creek was completely carried away. The wagon road to the mill was badly cut up. It is also reported that the company lost several hundred cords of wood.

Pullman is on the South Palouse at a point formerly known as "Three Forks," twelve miles west from Moscow, on the Moscow branch of the Oregon Transcontinental Columbia River and Palouse road. The location is in the heart of the richest portion of Whitman county, and with the completion of the railroad early next season, will become at once the central point of an immense tributary region. Good wagon roads already radiate from it in all directions piercing the surrounding wheat belt. Owing to the topography and general conformation of the country Pullman can have no rival. Lots are selling rapidly already and it is not improbable the town will have a genuine boom in the early spring. Pullman is named in honor of the Chicago capitalist of that name and an associate of Mr. Villard in the various railroad enterprises in this region.

Eastern Oregon.

The Umatilla reservation saw-mill was badly damaged by the high water. Considerable lumber was carried away.

Track on the Weston and Walla Walla road is being laid at the rate of 1½ miles per day and is now almost to Milton.

One Henry Dalpke, living on Dry creek, near Weston, was carried off with his cabin during the high water. His dead body was found about 200 yards below the site of the cabin lodged in a drift, on Monday.

The Warm Springs road over the Blue mountains was badly damaged by the sudden rise of the waters in the Umatilla. Every bridge from Thorn Hollow to the head of the river was washed away by the high water.

A teamster, Joe Mullen by name, resident of Malheur City met with serious injuries near Warm Springs, last week. One of his horses got a foot fastened in the double-trees, and Mullen stopped the team and went to extricate it, when he was forcibly struck in the head. Whether one of the horses in the lead kicked him, or whether the extricated foot was the cause of the blow, he does not know, as the transaction occurred so suddenly. Besides being very much bruised, both of his jaws were broken by the blow.

The Columbia water company expect to have its works in full operation about July 1, 1883.

Mrs. Ellen Scott, a pioneer of 1846, died on the 9th inst., at her home in Polk county, aged 77.

About three miles of iron pipe were unloaded at Astoria on Monday for the Astoria Gas Light company.

The Indian, Tom Gilbert, will remain in durance vile in the Polk county jail until January, when he will be tried on two indictments for murder—one for killing Wapato Dave and the other for killing the latter's wife.

SUPREME COURT.

SALEM, Dec. 19.

Court met at 10 A. M. Full bench present.

Leonard Wright, respondent, vs. Hollis Edwards, appellant. Judgment of the circuit court affirmed. Opinion by Lord, J.

SYLLABUS.

1. While the constitution provides that the county court shall have jurisdiction pertaining to probate courts, its authority to order the sale of real property of an intestate is derived entirely from the statute. The proceedings are required to be in writing, and the power of the court is brought into action by means of a verified petition by the administrator.

2. When the proceeds of the sale of personal property are exhausted, and claims still remain unpaid, a condition of things exist which authorizes a resort to the real property to discharge them. But the mere existence of such facts do not confer jurisdiction—they only present a case which authorizes the administrator to invoke the jurisdiction of the court.

3. To confer actual jurisdiction, the jurisdictional power of the court must be brought into action by averments of necessary facts in the petition which exhibit the necessity for the sale.

4. Where a petition omits wholly to allege material facts essential to confer jurisdiction, the court is without authority to act, and its proceedings are a nullity, and confer no right or title.

5. Where there is matter of substance upon which jurisdiction can hinge, mere errors or defects, although material in some respects, but which might have been avoided by appeal, cannot avail to condemn a judicial proceeding, when by lapse of time an appeal is barred, which has become the foundation of title to property. But the case is different where there is an entire want of facts prerequisite to jurisdiction disclosed upon the face of the petition and the court being without authority to act, its proceedings are of no validity, and can be collaterally assailed.

6. No court, no matter how general its jurisdiction may be, which proceeds without jurisdiction in the particular case, can make a valid record, or confer any right or title.

The state of Oregon, respondent, vs. See Yan Yau appellant. Judgment of the court below affirmed. Opinion by Watson, C. J.

SYLLABUS.

1. It is sufficient in an indictment for larceny, under section 551 of the criminal code, to allege that the defendant "feloniously took and carried away" the personal property therein described, without employing the word "steal" in any form.

2. Where the bill of exceptions does not purport to give all the evidence introduced or facts proven upon the trial of a criminal action, and the correctness of an instruction given the jury can only be determined by reference to facts proven on the trial, the appellate court will presume that such evidence was given and such facts established as justified the instructions.

T. H. Tongue vs J. Gaston. On trial.

Court took a recess until 2 P. M.

BABY'S PETITION.

Life is restless, days are fleeting
Children bloom, but die in teething;
Warning take, all friends and mothers,
Watch the precious girls and brothers;
Hear the [illegible] life of Victoria.
Children cry for Castoria;
No sleepless nights, by baby squalling,
Like larks they rise in early morning.

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN,

THE

Most Successful Physician on the Pacific Coast in the Treatment of

ALL CHRONIC & DIFFICULT DISEASES

DR. BRENAN WILL GUARANTEE TO CURE any form of disease of the generative organs or private disease. He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the

FOLLIES OF YOUTH,

Such as Spermatorrhoea, or Seminal Weakness, or Loss of Perfect Vitality. Nearly two-thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring either directly or indirectly from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession.

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit those diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organization broken down, and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances.

Lost manhood perfectly restored. Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint, and all Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, he can cure without fail.

Consultation Free, and a list of printed questions sent to those living at a distance who cannot consult him personally. Enclose postage stamp for list.

Office—132 and 134 Third St., opposite Masonic Hall. Office Hours—From 10 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 and 7 to 8 P. M.

All letters of professional business must be addressed to DR. PAUL M. BRENAN & CO., Portland, Oregon.

WOLFE'S

SCHIEDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS.

As a general beverage, necessary corrective of water rendered impure by vegetable decomposition or other causes, as limestone, sulphate of copper, etc., the AROMATIC SCHNAPPS is superior to every other alcoholic preparation. A public trial of over thirty years' duration, in every section of our country, of UDOLPHO WOLFE'S SCHNAPPS, its unsolicited indorsement by the medical faculty, and a sale unequaled by any other alcoholic distillation, have insured for it the reputation for salubrity claimed for it. For sale by all druggists and grocers.
